DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed January 20, 2004 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 19, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 19, lines 6-7, the recitation "said paper cutting and delivery means" is vague as to which one, and it is suggested in line 2 to insert --wherein said paper cutting and delivery means is a first paper cutting and delivery means, and-- before "wherein", in line 4, to re-insert --first-- before the first occurrence of "paper", in lines 4-5, to delete "said paper cutting and delivery means being a first paper cutting and delivery means, ", and in line 6 to re-insert --first-- before "paper".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Perini, pn 4,487,377.

Art Unit: 3724

Perini discloses a material cutting and feeding machine with almost every structural limitation of the claimed invention including a frame (e.g., 22, 23, 24); a paper cutting and delivering means comprising a material feeding roller means (e.g., 27, 28); a cutting means for perforating (e.g., 36, 37) and for cutting (e.g., 54); and a guide roller assembly (e.g., 42, 77, 95, 82a). Perini further discloses a drawing means including a tension roller (e.g., 33), and a first and second roller, but lacks the specific drawing means configuration including a first "pair" of rollers and a driven second "pair" of rollers. However, the Examiner takes Official notice that such web drawing configurations are old and well known in the art and provide various known benefits including the common practice of directly controlling the movement of the web.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide the specific drawing means configuration (i.e., either in place of or in addition to the roll moving structure 30) for the well known benefits including that described above.

5. Claims 19, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Perini, pn 4,487,377 as applied to claim 13 above, and further in view of Katoaka, pn 4,697,755.

Perini discloses a material cutting and feeding machine with almost every structural limitation of the claimed invention including a paper holder (e.g., 96) but lacks (a) second and third paper cutting and delivery means as claimed, and (b) the paper holder being slidably mounted in the frame.

Regarding (a), the Examiner takes Official notice that it is old and well known in the art to provide multiple web handling machines/assemblies on a single frame for various well known benefits including efficiency of operation/manufacturing and efficiency of space. Kataoka (e.g., in Fig. 3) discloses one example of providing multiple assemblies on a frame. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide additional machines/assemblies on the frame of Perini for the well known benefits including those described above.

Regarding (b), the Examiner takes Official notice that it is old and well known in the art to slidably mount various components in or on machines for various well known benefits including facilitating access to the component for replacement and/or repair. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to slidably mount the paper holder of Perini for the well known benefits including those described above.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1 and 4-11 are allowable over the prior art of record.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment filed on July 9, 2001 necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3724

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
